The most eminent part of these services will be the removal of the great altar of the cathedral. The main altar will be consecrated by Monsignor Kenney, the archdeacon delegate, while the consecration of the four side altars will be by the following bishops: Right Reverend Bishop Kenney of Charleston, S. C.; Right Reverend Bishop Deane, of Wheeling, W. Va.; Right Reverend Bishop Kenney, of Mobile, Ala.; Right Reverend Bishop Kenney, of Savannah, Ga. At the same time, the same consecration of the same altars, the same ceremony being used.

The Program.

The program for the consecration ceremony has been entirely perfected and no outline may be given.

The consecration service proper, which will last about four hours, will begin at 4 o'clock next Thursday morning. This solemn service will be participated in by the dignitaries of the church, led by His Excellency, Monsignor Kenney, Prelate of the apostolic delegate, and the Executive Cardinal. The other parts will be handled with appropriate dignity and solemnity.

The Mass will be said in the choir stalls, the altar, the place of robes, etc. The Mass will be received in the church and the solemn processions around the altar and from thence to the place of relics back to the main church, will be made in flowing parts of the ceremony. The consecration proper will be completed about 8 o'clock.

Pontifical Mass.

The second service, to which admittance by ticket will be required, will begin at 10 o'clock. It will be a pontifical mass which will be celebrated by Right Reverend Bishop Mass, of Cincinnati. This service is similar to the regular pontifical mass that is celebrated here by Bishop Van der Veen four times each year, except that in this case each dignitary will be attended by his own deacons of honor, Archbishops Keane, of Dubuque, Ia., formerly of Indianapolis, will preside at the altar. The other dignitaries will be all the church dignitaries who are serving in the cathedral, and all in the cathedral consecration service or the earlier preceding, each will be attended by his own deacons.

His Eminence, Cardinal Gibbons, and His Excellency, Monsignor Kenney, the archdeacon delegate, will both occupy thrones in the sanctuary, and each will be attended by two deacons of honor.

The Evening Service.

The evening service, which will consist of Pauline responses and blessed sacrament, will begin at 8 o'clock. The distribution will again occur through seats, and will be attended as at mass. The service on this occasion will be by Archdeacon Kenney, of St. Louis, the youngest archdeacon in the world, to be in his 41st year of age. No more than one thousand spectators than Archbishops Keane and Gibbons are in the hierarchy of the cathedral. Children are welcome.

The organ, band for brass and voices, will be by a large male choir, composed of men from all the parishes in the city, under the direction of Rev. Felix P. Kline, the accomplished organist and assistant of Deane. The organ has been revering for this occasion for several weeks. The mass to be rendered is St. Cecilia's mass, which is considered one of the most beautiful of all masses.

The service will be a reproduction of that which is heard in the basilicas of Rome, only on the greatest occasions. The "P" psalm, a part of the mass to be sung in the sanctuary, will be chanted by the following priests: Rev. Felix P. Kline, Rev. Edward M. Deasy, Rev. Charles E. Kelly, Rev. William A. Fahey, Rev. Thomas A. Hanrahan.

All the vestments at the three services will be under the personal supervision of the best master of vestments in the United States, namely Rev. James F. Nolen, of Our Lady of the Assumption Church, of Baltimore. Father Nolen has had a master of vestments at small and most notable national functions of the Catholic Church, but never before in the city of Baltimore. The master to Father Nolen as accomodator of vestments will be the Rev. Father Albert Green, of St. Peter's or St. Mary's Chapel, this city.
